

Rock decision tomorrow

Tomorrow, Macedon Ranges Council is expected to decide its position on the State Government's funding announcement for Hanging Rock.

Last Friday week, Planning Minister Matthew Guy announced a $1 million rescue package for the Rock, which would fund maintenance and costs associated with the reserve.

The conditional funding will only go ahead if council agrees to not to pursue commercial development at the Rock in the long term.

Council must make a formal decision to accept or decline the State's offer.

The matter is scheduled to be addressed at the ordinary council meeting on Wednesday, May 28.
